Dear Parents/Carers

At Fairlands we are always looking for new, innovative ways to improve our school. The feedback that we get from you at parents' evenings, school assemblies and through occasional questionnaires is always much appreciated and we hope that you feel that we act on it whenever we can.

Every term, the School Council will be looking at two important areas of school development and canvassing opinion from the children about what improvements the school could make. As part of our school community, we would welcome the views of parents and carers too. Each term we will send you a letter explaining what the two areas we are focusing on are. We have created a special email address of school-development@fairlands.herts.sch.uk for you to email your views to us.

We would like to know:

- What you think the school already does well in this area.
- What you would like us to do more of.
- What you would like to see us to start doing.

We will then discuss the ideas with the School Council, Parent Forum and as a Headship team, to see what ideas we will be in a position to move forward with.

The focuses for this term are:

- How can we encourage reluctant readers to read more?

and

- What improvements can we make to homework?

Please note that whilst it may not be possible to respond to individual emails, we will communicate outcomes on the School Council blog.
